PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Senator Charles McNary of Oregon will be the Republican vice-presidential candidate and running mate of Wendell Willkie even though he has had no aspirations for the post.

This was the word which came this afternoon from a conference of Republican leaders, which included Willkie.

Governor Harold Stassen, of Minnesota, who managed Willkie's nomination, tipped off the choice of McNary. Asked whether there was any choice for the vice presidential nomination, Stassen said:

Favors Sen. McNary

"Personally I favor Senator McNary for the vice presidency."

"What is your choice as floor manager?"

"Well, we have conferred with all the floor managers and it is our idea that this convention can deliberate without help," he replied with a broad smile.

Just a year ago, Wendell L. Willkie, nominated last night at Philadelphia, as the Republican candidate for president in November election, was the chief speaker at a large banquet in the Scottish Rite cathedral in this city. The occasion was the conclusion of the formal celebration of the opening of the new power plant of the Pennsylvania Power Company, at West Pittsburg. Mr. Willkie made a notable impression upon that occasion on his New Castle audience.

Nomination Of Willkie Result Of Upsurging Of Common People

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 28 — A homespun country boy from down Indiana way today was the choice of the Republican party for the presidency in the greatest upsurging of the plain people since the days of Abraham Lincoln.

Wendell L. Willkie is "plain folks" and he took his nomination early this morning as Lincoln might have taken it.

"I'm overwhelmed," he said when he could talk at all. "I'm grateful —and I'm humble."

There were tears in his eyes, tears for the tremendous vote which to him represented not just the expression of a political convention, but the wishes of the millions of persons who had signed petitions, organized clubs and sent telegrams by the bale to convention delegates.

People Who Won

It was the people who won the nominations for neither prominence nor organized efforts of the other candidates could prevail against them.

Since early afternoon when the balloting began, Willkie had been sprawled comfortably in an easy chair by the radio in his suite following each of the ballots. But, for that last fateful vote which

Huge Demonstration In Convention Hall As Willkie's Named

By BART RICHARDS
(News Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Back on July 4, 1776, a few of the boys in Philadelphia made some history that is still well spoken of. But on the night of June 27 or rather the morning of June 28, 1940, another bunch of boys and a lot of girls made some history here that may well be an epic in the political history of the United States.

Fifteen thousand hoarse voiced, nearly hysterical Americans loosened the arch beams of Philadelphia's convention hall as Wendell Lewis Willkie, Indiana-born lawyer-business man, was nominated for the Republican nomination for president.

The man whose campaign was barely started four months ago came through to a garrison finish on the sixth ballot and Pennsylvania's delegation of 72 votes barely made the boat.

With Willkie's vote standing at 499, Pennsylvania announced it was voting for Willkie and the score was in. The announcement of the vote was hardly finished when the crowd broke loose. All week long they had been shouting "We want Willkie" and they got him.

Colorful as the crowd was, hysterical as it was, the one person in all that crowd of 15,000 that got first place as far as we were concerned was a youngster of 20, broad shouldered, pleasant faced, who was sitting in the first gallery of spectators. He was Phillip L. Willkie, Princeton, 1940, son of the new nominee. As the crowd roared its approval of the choice of his father Phil was with a few friends and only the few with him knew who he was.

"It's certainly swell isn't it," was about as far as the youngster could get, but the smile that spread across his face spoke more than any words could say.

Down in the Willkie headquarters at 2 o'clock this morning it looked something like the mob scene from a melodrama. Everybody wanted to shake hands with the winner and most of them claimed to have known him "when." Standing guard as best he could was Uncle Henry Smith, uncle of Mrs. Willkie, who had stood guard like a faithful watchdog for the past week almost without food or sleep.

Edward, a brother of the nominee was here until late Thursday afternoon, but left only a few hours before the triumph of his brother. He is an executive of a company in Chicago.

Friday will be an anti-climax in the convention hall. A vice president must be named.

Balkans May Cause Split Of Soviet-Nazi Axis

Russia May Clash With Italo-German Plan In Balkans, Report

SIGNIFICANT MOVES SEEN IN RUMANIA

Report Italy And Germany Have Agreement For Partition of Balkans

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The possibility of a split between the Italo-German axis and Russia, as a result of conflicting ambitions in the turbulent Balkans, was foreseen by diplomatic observers today as Joseph Stalin's Soviet army prepared to occupy parts of Rumania.

Russia's occupation of Bessarabia and part of Bukovina coincided with reports that Berlin and Rome have agreed upon a partition of all the Balkan states.

Under this agreement, Italy's sphere of influence would include Bulgaria and Greece. The power controlling these two small states could close the straits of Dardanelles and Russia's entry to the Black Sea. Kremlin policy long has been adamant that no great power save Russia should dominate the shores of the Black Sea or the Aegean approaches to the Dardanelles.

Reports of the Rome-Berlin deal, it was believed, may have precipitated Moscow's sudden demands upon King Carol of Rumania. If Russia is planning to prevent the occupation of Bulgaria—or its political control—by Italy, the first logical military step would be an advance into Bessarabia, from which it could move into Bulgaria.

Russia's Rumanian move, it is

MOSCOW, June 28.—The Soviet radio today formally announced that Rumania has ceded Bessarabia and northern Bukovina to Russia in "compliance with the Soviet government's demands".

By GEORGE BALINT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUDAPEST June 28.—Soviet Russia stepped into the troubled Balkans today with military occupation of Bessarabia and the northern portion of Bukovina as King Carol of Rumania bowed to an ultimatum from the Kremlin.

Reports received in Budapest said that Russia began moving troops into the two provinces which were awarded to Roumania at the end of the last war immediately after King Carol accepted the demands from Moscow.

Occupation Begun

Soviet mechanized forced and infantry, protected by war planes flying overhead, began occupation of the territories at dawn. The specific objectives of the occupational troops were the four cities of Cernauti, Chisinau, Cetate-Aalba and Tighina.

The occupation ran off smoothly and without incident, as the Roumanian troops apparentlyy were under orders to withdraw without offering resistance.

The Moscow radio made the first authoritative revelation that King Carol had bowed to the Soviet demands. The Russian announcer said Rumania's decision to capitulate was transmitted to Soviet Premier V. M. Molotov by the Rumanian minister to the Kremlin.

It was reported in Budapest that Molotov, in reply to Carol's request for time to consider the Russian demands told the Rumanian envoy that the U. S. S. R. must occupy the territories first and discuss the questions of details later."

Dewey Takes His Defeat Manfully

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Thomas E. Dewey took his defeat manfully and with a smile.

He said in an interview today that he had no regrets—it had been a "grand fight." He "never had been so happy doing anything in his life."

He wasted no time congratulating Wendell L. Willkie. At the very moment Willkie was nominated, Dewey was talking to him over the telephone and promising him his full support in "the fight ahead."

Willkie Flashes Victory Smile In Headquarters

Climaxing his spectacular rise to power in the Republican party, utility magnate Wendell L. Willkie smashed his way to victory at the Republican National convention in Philadelphia, securing the G. Upon hearing of his victory, Willkie declared, "This is just the beginning of the fight and I am going to give everything I have in this battle for unity, cooperation and the betterment of our national defense."

PRESIDENT WOULD HAVE CONFERENCE

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 28—President Roosevelt told his press conference today that he would be glad to meet Wendell Willkie and discuss a common approach to European affairs should the newly named Republican presidential nominee so desire.

The president made this statement in response to an inquiry as to whether he had any such plans. He did not indicate that he had any immediately in view.

The president said he was too busy with other things to discuss politics but apologized with a broad grin for being late in holding his press conference

The White House elevator wasn't working this morning, Mr. Roosevelt explained.

Power Turned Off

Some one had turned the power off. The president said he hoped there was no connotation and joined in the general laugh which followed.

The president apparently referred to the fact that Willkie is head of a big power company.

While the president declined to comment on the nomination of Willkie as the Republican presidential nominee, the very fact that Willkie was named served to still further increase the demand in Democratic circles that President Roosevelt stand for a third term.

New Dealers recognized in the aggressive utilities man a far more formidable candidates than had the G. O. P. nomination gone to such hopefuls as Senator Robert A Taft of Ohio or the youthful Thos. E. Dewey. Willkie's personality and campaign appeal were forcibly demonstrated at Philadelphia this week.

Mr. Roosevelt continued to maintain his sphinx-like silence on the third term issue, although the great bulk of Democratic party leaders for several months have been going on the assumption he would run again.

Willkie Was First Choice Of Galleries At G.O.P. Convention

By BART RICHARDS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 28.—Wendell L. Willkie came out of the huge municipal auditorium in this city with the title of Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, but Thursday afternoon, nobody in the City of Brotherly Love was willing to wager more than a bob or two as to who would be the winner.

In the convention hall there was no doubt as to who the gallery wanted. Like a stormy surf beating up against a sea wall the waves of voices rolled over the big hall, "We Want Willkie".

There hasn't been anything like it in a Republican convention since 1920 when Warren G. Harding was nominated in Chicago. That was the year when the "gallery wanted Hoover but the floor wanted Harding".

In 1924 Coolidge was renominated without a struggle, in 1928 Hoover

Select Willkie On Sixth Ballot At Convention

Republicans Name Business Executive As Candidate For President Of U. S.

WILLKIE'S VICTORY IS UNPRECEDENTED

Campaign Of Few Weeks Brings Victory—Rivals Promise Full Support

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—A 48-year-old red-headed utility executive, Wendell Willkie of Indiana, was ready to sell the GOP platform of "Americanism, peace and preparedness" to the nation as the newly-crowned Republican presidential nominee.

Managed by two political youngsters, Governor Harold L. Stassen, of Minnesota, and Rep. Charles Halleck, of Indiana, Willkie won the nomination on the sixth ballot after running New York racket-buster Thomas E. Dewey into retirement and beating Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft in a two-man race.

No Precedent

There has been nothing quite like Willkie's victory in all America's political history. A life-long Democrat, he joined the Republican party less than two years ago after a "break" with the new deal. Now he leads the Republican party in an effort to oust the new deal from power.

His presidential campaign was launched less than sixty days ago—after he had been extolled as White House timber by old General Hugh "Iron Pants" Johnson. The Johnson suggestion at the time was regarded as ridiculous by congressional Republicans, but today Willkie gets his chance at the White House.

Among the bewildered Republican chieftains, there are a few who get credit for "seeing the light". There are Halleck, who first agreed to make the Willkie nominating speech "even though it wasn't popular at home", and Stassen, the keynoter, who endorsed him publicly on the second day of the convention and became his floor manager.

Then there were Alf M Landon, the 1936 nominee, who released his Kansas delegation, and Senate Leader Charles L. McNary, Oregon, who freed his Oregon delegation in time for them to help nominate Willkie. And House Leader Joseph W Martin of Massachusetts, a favorite-son, soon withdrew to let another bulk swing to the Willkie standard.

Wins "Hard Way"

Willkie won the nomination the "hard way", coming from far behind to take a stretch drive. He had plenty of support in the convention but far more in the galleries where thousands cheered his name every time it was mentioned and encouraged his managers to fresh efforts

Willkie Plans Real Campaign

No "Brain Trust" For Him —To Seek To Oust New Deal

TO RESIGN POST AS C. & S. CHAIRMAN

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHISON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 28—Wendell Willkie, the dynamic Republican presidential nominee today took charge of the G. O. P. asked the convention to give him its choice of a running-mate, ruled a "brain trust" out of his campaign and sidestepped an invitation from President Roosevelt to confer at the White House.

Willkie, interviewed by 400 reporters after winning the Republican nomination early today on the sixth ballot, made it plain he will conduct a vigorous campaign to oust the New Deal. He announced he wanted to campaign "as cheaply as possible" and that he preferred "small contributions instead of large ones" to finance his bid for the presidency.

No Roosevelt Conference

Willkie was decidedly cool toward President Roosevelt's press conference bid for a conference with him Willkie said he had met the chief executive several times and would be happy to meet him again but that at such conferences, the president has always "done most of the talking."

The new G. O. P. standard-bearer conferred for hours with leaders of many Republican factions. He took their advice on a number of internal party matters, as though he had spent his life consulting with Republican big wigs.

Willkie disclosed he would take his time in laying down a cam-

State's Delegates Stay With James

Fail To Shift In Five Ballots

Observers Say Shift To Taft On Fifth Ballot Would Have Changed Result

GOVERNOR JAMES PLEDGES SUPPORT

By FRANK J. BURKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Pennsylvania's loyal adherence to its favorite son, Gov. Arthur H. James, as far as the fifth ballot early today was instrumental in shattering hopes of Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination.

The state's 72 delegates lost a chance to boost Senator Taft on a parity or higher with utilities magnate Wendell Willkie by casting 51 votes for James on the fifth roll call.

The sixth and final ballot began while Joseph N. Pew, Jr., and other Pennsylvania leaders were huddled in a caucus.

On the sixth vote, former Sen. David A. Reed, delegation chairman from Pittsburgh, threw Pennsylvania's entire bloc to Willkie—at a time when the New Yorker was already assured of the nomination.

"It was my own decision," Senator Reed explained afterward. "Willkie had about 500 votes when I returned to the floor. Ohio already had gone over unanimously for Willkie and asked us to do the same. It was the obvious thing to do."

Furiously Pew rushed upon the convention floor shouting that Reed's action was "unwarranted," since the state caucus had voted 49 for Willkie and 23 for Taft. Putting the matter up to Governor James, the Philadelphia Oil Company executive asked: "What do you say, Governor?"

"Let it go," replied James. "I'm satisfied." Pennsylvania's governor proved his "satisfaction" by delivering a seconding motion to make Willkie's nomination unanimous.

In doing so, Governor James thanked those who had voted for him, pledged "full support" to the nominee, and predicted a Republican victory in the fall presidential campaign.

Political observers said today that if the James delegates had switched to Taft on the fifth test, a rush to the senator's standard might have been joined by anti-Willkie delegates from Michigan, Wisconsin and other "hold-out" states. But the urgent pleas of Taft backers went unanswered.

NOMINATION RESULT OF UPSURGING OF COMMON PEOPLE

made him the candidate of the convention and the party, he strolled quietly into a less crowded room and stretched out on a bed."

This was the "smoke filled" room in which he received word of the nomination, not the "smoke filled" room of the political bosses of the past. There wasn't a boss in sight. There wasn't even a ward leader in sight—just people from the plains, the hills and the cities—ordinary people from whom Willkie casually bummed cigarettes and exchanged small talk during the long day.

Instead of political advisers, Willkie consulted his run-of-the-mine visitors, his volunteer workers, the newspapermen assigned to cover him. He got his information this way:

"How long do you think Bridges will hold out? Does it look as though Dewey is slipping? How did I do in Indiana on that vote?"

After the first ballot:

"That's about right. I ought to start climbing on the next."

"Boys, She's Growing"

When the second ballot showed a gain he chuckled:

"Boys—She's growing. She ought to bloom on the next one."

Somebody reminded him in mid-afternoon that he hadn't had any lunch.

"I'll eat it here if you don't mind watching me," he said. And he did just that, pushing knife and fork at a right hearty piece of beef and potatoes while his audience kept score for him.

On a doubtful state he would pause, the fork in mid-air, and cock his head to listen. If a break came his way he would grin and wave the fork like a baton. If the vote was unchanged he would grin anyway, remark "it will come along," and return his attention to his meal.

Reporters marveled at the completeness of the man. Whenever Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, who was his floor manager, would phone a report, Willkie would promptly pass it along to the newsmen. He told them just when to expect the breaks and he grinned with them when the breaks came.

People wandered in and out of the room, little boys shoved autograph books under his nose, persons who knew a cousin of a friend of his barged into shake hands, many times while the balloting was in progress and he never failed to come through for them. Then he would turn to the reporters and say:

"I missed that state—how did it go?"

When one state voted a unanimous bloc for another candidate on the first ballot, he remarked:

"There's one liar in that state."

Only Reproach

It was the only expression of reproach that he has been known to use since he arrived in Philadelphia last Saturday. He used it because one delegate from that state had given him his hand and said "I'm for you from the outset."

Afternoon wore on into evening and during the convention recess, Willkie slipped away to the second hotel suite he had been compelled to hire for sleeping purposes when visitors crowded him out of his bedroom. He had a nap and a bite to eat and came back refreshed for the night session.

The ballots mounted, Dewey surrendered and as the votes piled up for Willkie he sat more erect, listened more soberly.

The result became obvious, the room became more crowded, policemen and detectives swarmed into the corridor and just before the balloting began which was to result in his nomination, Willkie moved into another room with only a few friends to keep the vigil.

Democracy Can Work

No one was offended. No one suggested that "high hattis" had already set in. The situation was obvious—he could not face a crowd at that moment when he was to be nominated as the candidate of the Republican party for the presidency.

Willkie is a broad-shouldered, husky citizen but even a strong man has been known to cry openly under stress of great emotion and to an Indiana farm boy, who could not believe two months ago that the people wanted him, this was a time of great emotion.

Then it was all over, the last ballot was in, the declarations for a unanimous vote began and Wendell Willkie came out of the room.

"I'm grateful and I'm humble," he said. "Now I would like to go to my family."

Eyes bright, a spring in his step, he strode down the corridor, the candidate of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States, the living proof that democracy can work and will work, prevailing over all.

SOVIET RUSSIA MOVING TROOPS INTO RUMANIA

Throughout the rest of the Balkans the Russo-Rumanian situation stirred a maelstrom of feverish political activity.

Other Demands

Both Bulgaria and Hungary intensified their pressure to obtain territorial concessions from Rumania—Bulgaria seeking Dobrudja and Hungary wanting Transylvania.

Turkey, worried over the possibility of an attack upon the Dardanelles, sent a naval squadron of a battleship and two smaller warships through the Turkish straits into the Black Sea. Likewise Turkish anti-aircraft defenses were placed on the "Albert" in the Dardanelles area.

Yugoslavia was maintaining the strictest "hands off" policy in the crisis, but it was felt that Hungary's demands upon Bucharest might alter the situation radically so far as Belgrade is concerned.

From Rome came authoritative reports that Italian action in Budapest and Sofia is pending to prevent precipitation of use of arms to settle outstanding questions between Hungary and Bulgaria and Rumania.

It is felt in Rome that the fact that Rumania has recognized the Russian claims can form the basis of Italian assurance that the Hungarian and Bulgarian claims can eventully be satisfied peacefully.

There is a strong desire on the part of both Italy and Germany to prevent the spread of war to the Balkans.

OREGON SENATOR LIKELY NOMINEE AS VICE PRESIDENT

ferences with Republican chieftains, was asked directly whether he had a choice for the second place nomination. His reply was:

"That is a matter for the convention to decide. Of course, I think its a very wise convention."

To Be Nominated

The Oregon senator, it was understood, would be placed in nomination this afternoon by W. S. Moscrip of Minnesota, with former Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas making a seconding speech.

Earlier in the day, McNary issued a formal statement in Washington discouraging the obvious demand of the rank and file of delegates, as well as leaders, for his nomination for vice president.

"I'm not interested in the position of vice president," said McNary. "I believe I can render a better service by remaining here in the senate."

At the same time McNary praised the power executive chosen to lead the party.

"As a successful business man, Willkie is well fitted for the business administration of governmental affairs and other responsibilities of the high office," said McNary.

Said To Have Yielded

The senate Republican leader, however, was said to have yielded to a personal plea made to him by Willkie by telephone.

Willkie was said to be especially anxious to have McNary on the ticket to prevent Democrats from attaching a "power label" to it.

McNary is for public development of power where he considers it essential for the country. He is regarded as the father of the big Bonneville power project in Washington and Oregon, constructed during the Roosevelt administration.

As co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm bill—a far-reaching program of farm aid which antedated the New Deal program—he has been acclaimed as both a friend of the farmer and an expert on farm problems.

Willkie, who won the presidential nomination in a spectacular convention battle, met with former Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, Republican House Leader Joe Martin, Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, his floor manager, and Reps. Charles Halleck of Indiana and Bruce Barton of New York.

Among the names reported canvassed by the group were those of Gov. Baldwin of Connecticut, Gov. Carr of Colorado and Gov. Bricker of Ohio. The names of Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan, who has disclaimed interest in the nomination, and Sen. Robert Taft, Willkie's chief rival, also cropped up in Republican conferences. Gov. Stassen himself was a possibility.

paign policy—including his personal interpretations of the new G. O. P. "Americanism, peace and preparedness platform. He said there would be "no announcement" along this line for a week.

Will Resign As C. & S. Head

The nominee is considering a great home-coming celebration at his birthplace, Elwood, Indiana, for acceptance of the nomination. But he promtply added:

"Don't worry, I've accepted already as far as that is concerned Make no mistake about that."

The 48-year old red-headed utility executive also announced he would resign Monday as chairman of the board of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, a giant electric utility holding company. He will sever all business ties, he added, to devote his entire attention to the coming campaign.

pointed out, is probably in line with the secret agreement negotiated with Germany last August. As a reward for turning its back on the Allies and allowing Germany a free hand in the west, Moscow is understood to have received German sanction for occupation of Bessarabia and the Baltic states.

But it is significant that Stalin should decide to move into the Balkans just as Rome and Berlin were reported to have reached an agreement for their partition—something that was not included in the Berlin-Moscow agreement. Apparently Stalin has been left out in the cold during the recent Hitler-Mussolini conversations. To Washington observers, his present aggressiveness is viewed as insurance that Russian interests shall be considered and protected if the southeastern states are to be carved up.

Whether the three great totalitarian states can partition the Balkans without falling out among themselves is a question that will be answered, probably, within the next few weeks. The strength of Russia's stand against the "Axis powers," it is believed, will depend largely on how much military energy Germany and Italy have to expend in their war with Great Britain.

CRACKING THE WHIP OVER SOVIET LABOR

SOVIET RUSSIA has been forced to discard many of its utopian ideas, among them that it is possible for a people to get along by repealing economic laws.

Now it has reluctantly to admit that production is the key to prosperity, that the worker can take out no more than he puts into his job and the more he produces the better off he and his country will be.

So the Soviet style of five-day week goes by the board. It has not been like our five-day working week. Under the Russian plan the wage-earner did not get two days off a week. He worked five days, rested on one and then had another five-day shift.

This gave the Russian worker 60 "free days" a year. Now he will have 52, which means a straight six-day week.

The land that has long posed as a paradise for the workingman is only a mirage, a sham and delusion says the Philadelphia Inquirer. Everybody knows that the Russian workers are regimented as rigidly as soldiers. And still they have failed to produce the goods.

WINGS OVER ALASKA

Regularly scheduled passenger service between Seattle and Juneau, Alaska, has begun.

None too soon. This vast territory, with its 30,000 white inhabitants and its 300 infantrymen defending it, demands attention.

Fortunately it is getting it. Three large air bases are already under construction, and money is on the way for two more. The necessary complements of these bases, with the establishment of a National Guard, will take some of the pressure off the need to defend this great territory, valuable in itself, vital as an avenue of possible attack on the United States. Some 700 new troops are now on their way to an Alaskan base.

Until next year the Seattle-Juneau route will be covered by flying boats. After that the big four-engined stratosphere planes will take their place, air fields having been built in the meantime that will accommodate them. Not only the military but the civilian development of Alaska should receive a great impetus by this new triumph of American air progress.

THANKS FOR BUGGY RIDE

It made only a little item, this appeal of President Roosevelt to congress to appropriate $42,000 for inauguration of the next president. Implied are Mr. Roosevelt's thanks for a trip from the White House to the Capitol and back again.

But when the president made the request, he could scarcely help thinking of the seating arrangements. He'll occupy the right-hand seat on the way to the capitol, but his enjoyment will be tempered by the person who sits at his left.

If that personage happens to be Mrs. Roosevelt or some friendly Democrat, the presidential smile will be all the broader. If it be a Republican, the president will still be his gracious self, however he feels.

It is the ride back to review the inaugural parade that in some instances has demonstrated the power to "take it." If a Republican has become president, there is ample precedent for Mr. Roosevelt's not making the trip back down Pennsylvania avenue.

The other Roosevelt—T. R.—broke the tradition in March, 1909. He went directly to the railroad station and there declared to a group of three newspapermen: "I've had a bully time!"

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS QUITS

Notification to all employees of the League of Nations to resign by June 30 indicates that Saturday will be their last pay day. If "all" means what it says, not even a janitor or watchman will be left in the great palace.

But what is there left to guard? Not the hundreds of forgotten treaties gathering dust in the files. Not one, from Versailles and Locarno to the Kellogg Pact, is worth preserving, unless by somebody with a taste for curiosities.

What will become of the vast mausoleum of dead hopes and aspirations and paper promises that looked to the dawning of a better day? Should it be kept as a shrine of a noble ideal, still not impossible of realization, but for which the world may have to wait who knows how many years or generations?

The League was tottering long before the latest war. It contained within itself the seeds of inevitable decay. Its plan of organization was the reverse of democratic, since it was run from the start by a clique, a close corporation of big Powers.

The United States did well to keep out of the league. But whatever the cynics may say, Europe will remain a battleground until its peoples adopt some plan for union, based on principles of justice for all.

DEMOCRACY CAN FUNCTION

In Washington, under the stress of present conditions, a significant thing is happening. The myth of "ineffective democracy," so constantly exploited by the totalitarian prophets, is being dispelled by a congress which, right or wrong, is plowing ahead. Important business is being transacted with speed and efficiency.

It was only a few weeks ago that the position of the United States on the world scene was changed by the tide of the war and Americans were made to realize in a dramatic way that many of their long-nourished conceptions were being shattered by the power of the Nazi war machine and the scope of totalitarian ambitions.

Now, by reason of the collapse of France, the beginning of total warfare against Great Britain and the revelation of Nazi infiltrations in South America, the position of the United States becomes even more affected.

The people and congress are under no delusions, as it evident from many signs, not the least of which are a renewal of the demand for a two-ocean navy, until recently considered as unnecessary and far too costly, and the plans for a Pan-American trade alliance to guard the Western Hemisphere against any attempt of Germany and Italy to penetrate the Americas by economic warfare.

The record of congress, which includes the great Army and Navy expansion program, new tax bills and raising of the national debt limit, represents an extraordinary performance.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HURRY-UP TEACHING CONDEMNED.

Frequently, in this column, I have condemned stop-watch teaching and the school atmosphere of haste to which so many innocent, defenseless children must be exposed in so many classrooms.

In response to one such article, the following came from Roy Whitney, Director of Personnel for a large industrial concern, and author of "Morality in the Making." I am using his name and quoting, with his permission.

"When I was in the Second Grade," he writes, "a very well-meaning teacher habitually stood behind my seat in the corner of the classroom. When we were doing 'mental arithmetic', she frequently looked over my shoulder and said, 'Hurry, Roy, and you can beat.'

Birth of a Complex

"Harry Croft was the chief competitor in the classroom and soon he completed the addition first and the teacher was quite concerned that I was getting slower and slower, and she did all in her power to have me add faster.

"Today, if I were doing the simplest sum in an ordinary possible routine and my stenographer looked over my shoulder, my ability to add would be cut in half and my percentage of correctness would fall so low that I would not trust myself to use such figures.

"I have not the slightest doubt that all this is the complex rising out of a well-intentioned Miss—who put self-consciousness into addition for me. It has cost me hours of inconvenience and makes it impossible for me to keep the score during bowling or other simple operations, the cause of which I would probably not have suspected had it not been for the 'psychologizing' of writers like yourself."

Undoubtedly, hundreds of my readers could match this testimony with similar ones.

Avoid Sarcasm

A mother of nine and grandmother of six writes:

"I was particularly interested in the article you had some while ago about the sarcastic teacher. If I had my way I would muzzle every one of them for there's nothing that takes the heart and life out of a student like being held up to ridicule before a class by a mean, sarcastic teacher.

"I know how it feels because I had one and it was during the adolescent period and I was so sensitive. He would make fun of me or of some part of my clothing and get me crying,—then laugh at me. I am glad you give these backward, sensitive students a chance to write to you and talk their trouble over with you . . ."

I do wish I might persuade all teachers to be on guard against ridicule and sarcasm. Though I realize that we are all tempted at times to indulge in this human torture, I believe that if we could keep trying to put ourselves in the place of the sensitive youth, we would transgress in this direction far less frequently.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you advise a dash of cold water into the face of the young child in a violent rage?

A. Yes; and it should be a big glass full, preferably a quart pail full. It's the shocks that does the good work.

Q. My girl 6 is always tattling on her sister 9.

A. Quit paying her for tattling; quit punishing the older on the information volunteered by the younger.

Q. Would you question and cross-question a sixteen-year-old on his or her returning home at night on his or her conduct while away.

A. NO! No! No!

YOUTH AND AGE

The young man trims for battle
at every jibe or jeer,
Off come his coat and waistcoat
when trifling wrongs appear,
But the old man, tamed by trouble,
has learned at last to smile,
He knows that half his quarrels were never worth their while.

The young man burns in rages; his temper's quick to fly;
The chip is off his shoulder, the fire is in his eye,
But the old man, schooled in values,
at ease prefers to stay.
He's had his fill of quarrel and found a happier way.

The young man thinks it matters;
so great the hurt appears,
He shatters many a friendship he might have kept for years,
But the old man time has mellowed recalls the wrongs he's known
And knows they were forgotten before a week had flown.

Hints On Etiquette

Do not make a habit of telling friends who are about to make a trip that they should look up other friends or relatives of yours when they are in their vicinity. Of course if the travelers ask if you have such friends or relatives in such and such a place, as they would like to call on them, it would be correct.

God Save America!

We are glad to note that the city council is going after the owners of bum sidewalks of whom there are so many. The worst thing about it is that many can afford to pay for new sidewalks or fix the old ones up. Of course, those who cannot pay should not be forced to do something they cannot do. Make those who can, fix their lousy sidewalks! The city council has not done anything better than doing this.

Stopping in a small town, a traveling man said to a prospective customer: "It has been 20 years since I was here last. Many buildings gone up since then?"

"No," replied the resident, "none that I know of."

"Any new railroads or street cars?"

"No."

"Planning any improvements?"

"No."

"Well," said the traveling man, "I've been all over this country and this is the first town I've seen that is what you might call finished."

General election day this year will fall upon Nov. 5, in all states except Maine, where it will be held September 9th and that's where we got the slogan, "As goes Maine so goes the nation."

A famous prison chaplain declares that a majority of condemned men die "game," or at least pretend to do so. Guiseppi Zangara, who was electrocuted for the murder in Miami of Mayor Cermak, of Chicago, and Gerald Chapman who was hanged for the murder of a Connecticut policeman, are said to have been the most hardened criminals ever executed. Zangara died with a sneer on his face, totally unafraid, and Chapman died swearing at his captors.

"I have too small features," complains a girl whose letter has just arrived. "How can I dress to camouflage them?"

My answer: Adopt small hats, small coiffures and trimmings that are fine in scale and texture. Avoid large and heavy hats, also large coiffures, because by contrast they will make your face seem too small. Features relatively too small for the face are made to look still smaller when the forehead and temples are exposed as in the upper of the two accompanying drawings. The lower sketch shows how a different hat and coiffure have changed the same face.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: What do you say about putting a glass frame over an oil painting? Is it ever done?—Lena.

Answer: Unless there is a special reason for protecting them, glass coverings should not be used over oil paintings. Such protection make reflections that are often confusing. Moreover, it suggests a setting more pretentious than a home—an art gallery or a museum.

Question: When an engaged girl has no parents, is it all right for the groom's family to announce their impending marriage?—G. B.

Answer: The announcement must come from the family of the prospective bride. If she has no parents, her nearest relative should assume this responsibility. Under no circumstances should the announcement come from the family of the prospective bridegroom.

Question: What is correctly used to crumb the dinner table—a napkin or a scraper?—Hostess.

Answer: A folder napkin is generally used and correctly so. The silver seraper, sometimes seen is not suitable for a lace cloth, although it may be used on a plain cloth.

A burly man pushed his way to the counter of the postoffice, demanding a stamp. The girl behind the counter was trying to explain something to an old woman.

"I say," the man shouted, "I've got to catch a train."

The clerk turned and asked quietly: "Did you say you had to catch a train?"

"Yes, I did," snapped the man.

"Then what you need is a railroad station. This is the postoffice."

Switzerland is the oldest democracy in the world (650 years). There are three times as many daily newspapers in Switzerland as Great Britain. A lot of ailments people now discuss in public, a few years ago were never mentioned above a whisper.

Often we hear people say that those who do not like this country should go back to where they came from. Those same birds might have trouble getting back into the country they came from.

We don't know much about golf, but we are betting the bird who makes a hole in one is the most surprised person in the world.

We have noticed that the birds who do not remove the snow and ice from their sidewalks in the winter also don't do anything to keep their walks free of other junk in the summer.

An Ohio man had a divorce notice served on him while he was in jail. In some ways he was in a safe place just then.

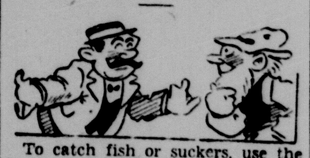
Now that there's need of billions for defense, some of the billions squandered by the New Deal would come handy.

There are less than 500,000 on relief in Pennsylvania now. That is a less number than has been on for over three years. Good sign!



To catch fish or suckers, use the same technique. Offer something for nothing, with a hook inside, and make it seem to be getting away.

Mussolini says he is doing it to make other lands respect Italy, but a hungry eagle is no more respectable when it plays the vulture.

It seems that when Hitler goes after a country he takes all there is to take.

We have noticed that there are people who will listen to a bird who says nasty things who would hardly look at him if he said nice things.

Latin Americans With United States Present Solid Front Against The Isms Papers Attempt To Stir Up Animosities

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 28.—It will be the United States' own fault if we allow ourselves to be propaganized into the notion that our Latin neighbor republics to our southward are otherwise than solidly alongside Uncle Sam in his western hemispherical policy in opposition to the spread of Nazism, Fascism, Communism or any other old world "ism" from Europe to the Americas, as a by-product of the pending war.

Oh, yes, doubtless there are a few little totalitarian groups in countries between the Rio Grande and Cape Horn. According to Congressman Martin Dies, we have several such organizations here in the United States. And Dies says they might be very troublesome in an emergency, but even he doesn't intimate that they ever will dominate our whole government.

Just so in Latin America. The southern totalitarian blocs evidently are an annoyance to them, but not dangerous.

A curious feature of the situation is that these organization such as they are, get a large part of their nourishment from right here in the United States. The Yankee supposition is that it's fed to them, mainly by wireless, from Berlin and Rome.

How System Works

As a matter of fact, taking operations in Mexico as an example, the system works more like this:

In Mexico City is a Communist publication known as El Popular, which likes to print anti-Yankee stuff. Also in the Mexican capital is a German daily (issued in Spanish) called the Diario Aleman.

These two papers maintain in the United States a few correspondents each, whose mission is to send to their editors all the American news they can scare up, of a nature calculated to be offensive to Latin-American readers.

Illustratively, both periodicals have done their utmost to make it appear that Uncle Sam's present defense program is essentially anti-Latin-American in character. There's been considerable Yankee regular army activity just north of the Rio Grande of late. There's nothing to imply that it's the least bit hostile to Mexico, but the Diario Aleman insists that it is.

Lindbergh Statement

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, in his last broadcast, will be recalled as having warned that it is imperative for the United States to strengthen our western hemispherical defense "in co-operation with Latin America"—but with the suggestion that we "must have bases where we need them, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

This promptly was played up by El Popular and the Diario Aleman as forecasting landings of American marines on Latin soil, with no questions asked for the Latins themselves—as in the old days when we were distrusted and feared as the "colossus of the north," by our southern neighbors.

Today's Washington administration is on such excellent terms with the latter that propaganda of the Lindbergh class doesn't appear to have "taken" particularly. All the

The Great Game Of Politics

Practical Politics

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.

IT IS TRUE, as some of our most erudite publicists frantically point out, that while the world is on fire the Republican Convention here concerns itself with questions of political expediency and tries through devious compromises to attract the largest possible number of voters. Of course, that it true, but what do they expect of politicians in a political convention, anyhow?

DO THEY EXPECT that because of a world crisis they will divest themselves overnight of all small selfishness, turn into angels wearing haloes and twanging harps? Do they expect these politicians not to utilize the emergency for partisan purposes when the other side is so plainly doing exactly that? One would think so by some of the things they are being exhorted to do. The lamentable truth is that it is just as impossible to get this convention to rise above the level of practical politics as it will be to get the Democratic Convention which meets next month to do so.

THAT GATHERING will be in the hands of men eager to hold on to the political power they have, just as this one is in the hands of men extremely desirous of taking that power away and acquiring it themselves. The clouds that menace us might be much blacker than they are and still that would be the situation. As long as the convention struggle is on these people are politicians before they are patriots. That is not so much an indictment of them as it is a statement of a simple, human and inescapable fact. And, regardless of the customary camouflage, this will be as true of the Democrats in Chicago as of the Republicans in Philadelphia.

THEREFORE, these stirring appeals to the South by the Republicans here gathered are slightly absurd. Certainly, it is ineffective to scream that they must nominate Mr. Willkie in order to SAVE THE WORLD at this stage of the game. Few Democrats are converted by insistence upon his transcendent ability to deal with the great foreign and domestic problems which loom ahead. Nor are States swung by fervent pleas to abandon even the semblance of partisanship and go coalition in a big way. It would be fine if you could get the convention to nominate its best man just because he is the best man. But, let's be realistic. It never has been done. It will not be done this time and probably it never will be done.

THESE POLITICIANS—like Democratic politicians and all other politicians are primarily concerned with winning. To win, they would not hesitate to nominate their worst man either here or in Chicago next month. The way to get them to be broad and big and noble is to show them that that is the way to win; to convince them that to check short in these directions is to court defeat. It is on that basis that politicians the world over operate and no amount of pontifical political Sermons on the Mount will alter that basic fact. Quite clearly, in this situation the man who in experience and equipment best measures up to the Presidency is Mr. Hoover. If political expediency were to be abandoned the Republicans would nominate Mr. Hoover. But they will not nominate him because much as they respect and admire him they are convinced they cannot win with him.

THEY VERY BADLY want to win and the way to get them to rise to the higher levels is to convince them that only by thus rising will they win. It ought not to be that way but it just is that way. Despite the confidence in the Taft camp, what is steadily nourishing the Willkie candidacy is the argument as to his ability, and general enlightenment. The reason why, notwithstanding the stop Willkie movement and the anti-Willkie propaganda, the Willkie movement steadily gains is the simple fact that it is becoming apparent to an increasing number of Republicans that he represents the party's one chance of winning. If it cannot win with him then it cannot win with anyone. That is the really effective argument in this convention.

ONCE IT IS conceded that Mr. Hoover is not going to be named, the difficulty of the practical politicians in getting away from Willkie is obvious. With Mr. Dewey in the discard, the only alternative is Senator Taft, a capable man of high character for whom there is no popular enthusiasm whatever. The clear-headed politicians know that as a candidate, Mr. Taft, like Mr. Landon, would get the solid Republican vote. But they also realize that that is not enough—not enough by a good many million. Who then, they ask, can get the Republican

PEACE AND WAR

Pedalling happily across Copenhagen, the 86-year-old professor hastened to dine with his king. He bicycled to the castle because that was his usual method of traveling, and in democratic little Denmark no one bothers with pomp.

Nor was the professor the only cyclist in the Copenhagen streets, for there bicycles outnumber five to one all other types of transportation combined.

In fact, one-third of the national population turns out daily on their bicycles, precipitating a rather haphazard traffic problem in congested districts. Traffic right-of-way is yielded to them by all other vehicles.

Postmen and messengers mounted on bicycles dart in and out among the cyclists while errand boys pedal laboriously, shoving ahead of them huge tricycles piled high with bundles, and it is not a rare sight to see them carrying even a sofa.

A bicycle in every Danish home (plus an additional 100,000) enables city dwellers to leave the center of the town for the outskirts. No less than one-twelfth of the entire population of Copenhagen has migrated thus.

Cycling has given every man an opportunity to travel and know his country intimately. The most popular of Danish vacations is a bicycle tour around their lovely little land. Groups of Boy Scouts, sometimes as many as five or six hundred, may constantly be seen rolling along the undulating roads to picnic and camping grounds.

That was before the Blitzkrieg engulfed Europe.

Some four years ago I had the opportunity of talking with a manufacturer from Munich and I asked him if there were many automobiles in use in Germany and how the workmen traveled to and from their work. He laughed and said: "Mostly on foot. Those who can afford it on bicycles. I know of no workman in Munich who owns an automobile. Only men of authority and of considerable income have automobiles in Germany."

In America the automobile is the most prized possession of our workmen. He will mortgage his home; he will mortgage his wife; he will mortgage everything he possesses rather than give up his automobile.

Eleven New Castle Youths In Pilot Training Course

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 28—Eleven New Castle youths, representing both graduates and undergraduates from colleges in this district, are among the fifteen students enrolled in Westminster's summer Civilian Pilot Training program. Classes in ground school instruction are now being held at 7:30 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings under Dr. J. A. Swindler, head of the physics department at the college.

Several of the students have not as yet taken their final physical examination for the flight training. Westminster's dean of men, Maxwell R. Kelso, announced, and in the event that some do not pass, the roster of student pilots will be changed. Otherwise the list is permanent.

The course, similar to that conducted last winter in cooperation with the federal government's gigantic pilot training program, was thrown open this summer to students or graduates from any institution in the country who were living in the vicinity of New Wilmington.

Seventy-two hours of ground school and thirty-five hours of flying are required to complete the course. Flight instruction will be given at the New Castle airport by William H. Ice.

Students taking the course represent the following schools: Notre Dame, Grove City, Carnegie Tech, University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan, Geneva, Slippery Rock and Westminster.

Those enrolled in the course are John White, New Wilmington; James Gamble, Pittsburgh; Russell Apple, Philadelphia; William Rohrer, R. D. 2, New Castle; Mark Graham, Grove City; and James Bickett, William Green, William Lysz, William Woodworth, Lester Levine, Joshua Kaplan, Guy Lateano, Robert Wilkison, James Dart, Joseph Bryan, all of New Castle.

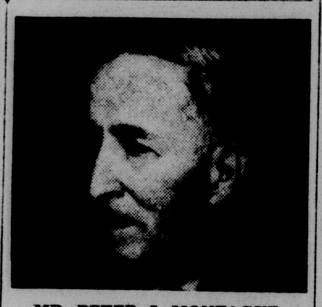
CITY FOREMAN GIVES RETONGA FULL CREDIT

Was Victim Of Harassing Complaints For Several Years, He States. Eats Anything Now; System Regulated; Has More Strength.



MR. PETER J. MONTAGUE

For years a victim of inorganic complaints that kept him in constantly run down and weakened condition Mr. Peter J. Montague, well-known retired city foreman, of 3234 Parkview Ave., Pittsburgh, tried the famous new herbal medicine Retonga, and now adds his heartfelt gratitude to the thousands acclaiming this celebrated preparation.

"I suffered badly from sluggish elimination for years," states Mr. Montague. "I had sour indigestion and gassy bloating after every meal, and I got so weak I was about as discouraged as any man in Pittsburgh. I had stabbing pains that shot through my body and at times my legs and knees ached like a tooth ache. My nights were so broken up that when morning came I felt even more worn out than when I went to bed.

"Retonga proved wonderful in my case. The pains are all gone, and I eat heartily and have no acid indigestion. My bowels are regulated and I have lots of new strength. Retonga deserves entire credit for my vastly improved condition, and I wish I could tell every sufferer in Pennsylvania about it."

vote and enough Democratic and independent votes to win? To that there seems but one answer—Willkie. Maybe he could not get them, but if he cannot, then certainly no one can.

A REALISTIC statement of the situation will concede two political liabilities of Mr. Willkie—first, that he is a public utility executive and the Democrats undoubtedly would try to brand him as Wall Street's candidate; second, that until 1936, when he voted for Landon, he had been a Democrat. There are no other liabilities which the most diligent digging has disclosed. So far as the Wall Street allegation, its own falsity plus Mr. Willkie's ability to present fact can be counted upon to obviate that. So far as the charge that he is so recent a Republican, that answers itself. If Mr. Willkie should be nominated by the Republican party, the Republicans who voted for Mr. Hoover and Mr. Landon and who would vote for Mr. Taft will vote for Mr. Willkie, because there is nothing else for them to do. They simply have no place to go—particularly if Mr. Roosevelt should be renominated.

AS FOR ASSETS, those for Mr. Willkie are listed as follows—first, the fact that he could get more Democratic votes than any other candidate; second, that he could get more independent votes than any other; third, that he would be supported by more Democratic newspapers and periodicals than any other; fourth, that more money could be raised for him than for any other; fifth, that he has a more engaging personality than any other, that he has a greater popular appeal—as shown by the polls—and is able to make a better campaign.

THESE ARE THE things that today are being urged by the practical Willkie advocates and they are far more impressive to the men who control delegates than the eloquent, evangelical exhortations to rise above partisanship and save the world—for example, by nominating, with Mr. Willkie, Mayor LaGuardia. And, of course, the hysterical journalistic gentlemen who see among these very commonplace delegates sinister figures who are trying to "appease" Hitler in the way Chamberlain did at Munich are so completely off base as to be wholly ridiculous.

What's What At A Glance

same, the colonel didn't express himself overdiplomatically.

Nevertheless, as good a judge as Josephus Daniels, our Mexican City ambassador, home on short leave, says we don't need to be a bit worried concerning the Mexicans' loyalty to our Pan-American policy.

Vargas Of Brazil

President Vargas of Brazil did give Washington several anxious hours recently, but since then he's set himself fully right with the new world combination.

Elsewhere throughout Central, South and insular America the alignment appears to be everything that could be asked of it. It seems to be up to the United States not to allow this satisfactory relationship to be disturbed by propaganda stories of disaffection, here, there and elsewhere.

Herr Hitler didn't get himself very generally believed some days ago, when he announced, for publication, that he hadn't a thought of trying, ever, to inject his regime into any of the American countries, no matter how his old world campaign may eventuate.

That is to say, the critics recalled that Hitler made a good many of these pledges in the past and failed to keep them.

It may be that he'll stick to his word in this instance, though, from the utter hopelessness of trying to break it, as to the Americas. There are few signs that he has any appreciable number of efficient Trojan horses stabled on this side of the Atlantic, and such as he may have, to quote James H. R. Cromwell, are likely to turn out to be "Trojan jackasses."

New Wilmington Scouts Plan For Yellowstone Trip

Tentative Plans Are For Trip In Truck And Camping Out Enroute

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 28.—An innovation in New Wilmington scouting was made public Thursday when Scoutmaster Joseph Ferris said plans were underway for an 18-day trip to Yellowstone National park next summer.

Present plans, though tentative, include the hiring of a truck for transportation and the troop camping by the roadside each evening. Both the Boy Scout and Sea Scout organizations figure in the plans. An estimate of the expenses for the trip has been set at $18 per scout, $12 of this amount being set aside for the food fund and $1 for truck expenses.

Scout Gordon Pitzer, one of the patrol leaders of the troop, has been appointed manager of the trip, Scoutmaster Ferris announced. His duties include the preparation of the equipment that will be used by the scouts on the trip.

Leaders that will go on the trip with the scouts are Joseph Ferris, scoutmaster of the Boy Scout troop, and Hans Holm, mate of the Sea Scoutship.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 30, is Jonah 3 and 4, the Golden Text being Jonah 2:9, "Salvation is of Jehovas.")

Jonah is a man we can well understand today. He was not only a prophet who interpreted the words of Jehovah to the people of that day, but he was an erring soul himself given to ill temper, when what he had prophesied did not come to pass, and in need of God's rebuke.

The part of the story which tells of the first message he received, which told him to proceed to Nineveh and announce the fall of the city because of its wickedness is not contained in today's lesson. Jonah did not do the Lord's will, as you will remember. Instead he took passage on a boat bound for Tarshish, foolishly thinking he could get away from Jehovah. The boat was tossed violently about by a tempestuous sea, and all the people on board were terribly frightened.

The boat's master, finding Jonah peacfully sleeping through the storm, awakened him and told him of their plight. Jonah confessed his flight from his duty, and the crew of the boat agreed to cast lots and the one designated would be the one considered as the cause of the storm. The lot fell to Jonah and he therefore told them to throw him overboard. So they did, and prayed that Jehovah would not hold them guilty of innocent blood because they had cast him out.

The Lord had prepared a huge fish, however and when Jonah went overboard this fish swallowed him and he is said to have remained in the stomach of the fish for three days and three nights continually praying to the Lord for foregiveness and deliverance.

Thrown On Dry Land

"Then the Lord spake to the fish" the account relates and it "vomited Jonah out upon dry land." There the word of the Lord came again to Jonah saying: "Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee."

Jonah had learned his lesson and he forthwith journeyed to the great and wicked city of Nineveh and cried to all the people: " "Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown."

The people of Ninevah were terror stricken believing what Jonah told them. "The king arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes."

He also caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh as a decree that neither man nor beast might taste any food or water and all must dress in sackcloth and "cry mightily unto God." Possibly if the Lord saw that they were sorry for their ill-doing He would repent and not destroy them the king said. So all the inhabitants of the city did as the king decreed.

"And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way: and God repented of the evil, that He had said that He would do unto them; and He did it not."

Now you would naturally think Jonah would have been glad when he knew the people of the great city would be saved, but such is the perverseness of the human heart that he was annoyed. He had told Nineveh that it would be destroyed in 40 days and he expected it to be so destroyed. So he sat on the east city wall and waited to see what would happen. He even reproached the Lord because of His mercy, forbearance and kindness to the sinful people.

Cannot you imagine that Jehovah smiled a rather sad but tolerant smile when he saw one of His prophets acting so like a child?—Jonah' even asked the Lord that he might die—"for it is better for me to die than to live," he said.

"Doest thou well to be angry?" asked Jehovah.

Jonah made a booth for himself and Jehovah made a gourd grow up in an incredibly short time, so that Jonah's head might be shaded from the hot sun. But He also made a worm which destroyed the gourd during the night so that it withered. The sun was so hot next day, and the Lord caused a "vehement" wind to blow on Jonah's head so that he fainted and wished again to die.

Again the Lord said to him. "Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd?" And Jehovah answered: "I do well to be angry, even unto death."

The Lord then said: "Thou hast pity on the gourd, for that which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow which came up in a night, and perished in a night.

"And should not I spare Nineveh that great city wherein are more than six score thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle."

That is the end of the book of Jonah and whether he took the Lord's lesson to heart and repented of his own hardness and petulance we do not know. We are sure he did.

Jonah lived during the reign of Jeroboam II—790-750 B. C. The lesson teaches us how the love of God reaches out to us, embracing us ever when we turn from our evil and repent.

EMINENT LOCAL CITIZEN FINDS WELCOME RELIEF WITH WILLIAMS FORMULA

Adds Her Praises For a Remarkable Medicine, New to This City, is Bringing Great Relief to Men and Women Suffering From Acid Stomach, Gas, Bloat, Constipation and "Run-down" Feeling. The Sale of This Medicine, Known as "Williams Formula" is Sensational.

Floods of letters are already pouring in from people who have put Williams Formula to the test and found it brought them such gratifying and agreeable relief.

Believing the words of a satisfied user to be the best recommendation we could give, we present the statement of Mrs. Annie E. Fowler, 1222 W. Southern Avenue, South Williamsport, Pa.

"I am convinced that Williams Formula fits my ailments to a "T". I say this because I have recently been bothered with dizziness in my head so that at times I would even feel faint when lying down—also my food did not seem to digest well as I was upset with gas and nausea which caused me considerable pain and did not allow me to enjoy my meals. All of this was accompanied by constipation, and with all this upset I thought I was really "in for it".

"I have been relieved of Constipation, I enjoy my food more, My dizziness is relieved since taking WILLIAMS FORMULA," says Mrs. Annie Fowler; Read this well-known lady's Sincere Statement.

What Williams Formula Is and What It Is For

Williams Formula helps lazy bowels expel foul waste matter; aids appetite and digestion; helps ease out gas and bloat from the stomach and intestine; and even stimulates kidney elimination, besides assisting the blood with iron, if needed. All this from one fine medicine.

Your own judgment can tell you the value of obtaining these several fine actions at one time. Then She Found the Answer

"Then I heard about Williams Formula, and why it was recommended for upset stomach, and gas from constipation, and went to my druggist and bought a bottle. I have since given the medicine a good trial, for before long I began to feel some relief, and now that I have continued, so much of this distress has been relieved and I enjoy my meals so much more, and don't feel all dizzy and tired out with constipation. I am awfully glad I found out about this medicine, because I know others who have suffered this way, and I did not want to go on with these pains and all the discomfort, and That is why I want all others to know about Williams Formula."

Funds Solicited By Red Cross Used Only For War Relief

Is Used Only Where Red Cross Has Complete Liberty In Administering Money

Money contributed to the $20,000,000 War Relief Fund of the American Red Cross is being used entirely for Red Cross relief in the war-stricken nations, R. F. Lewis, chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter, declared today. No part of the fund will be used in the normal domestic program of the Red Cross, cost of which is met from regular funds of the society.

Contributors may be sure, that none of the relief supplies nor any of the funds being raised in the present emergency campaign will be distributed where the American Red Cross does not have complete liberty of action and proper safeguards to insure the relief gets to those for whom it was intended.

More than $7,565,000 war relief expenditures has been made by the American Red Cross as of June 17. This sum includes large quantities of supplies purchased in the United States to sister Red Cross socieities in Poland, Finland, Norway, The Netherlands, Belgium, England and Frence.

Cessation of hostilities in any country does not mean that American Red Cross assistance to the people of that land will be diminished, it was emphasized. Mr Davis cited a message received from Chairman Davis in regard to France as follows.

"While conditions for rendering relief may change the policy of the American Red Cross remains the same. Cessation of hostilities in France does not diminish the terrible suffering and needs of refugees. We therefore intend to continue to extend all possible relief, but only upon condition that we have liberty of action and protection so as to insure that our aid goes solely to those French men, women and children and refugees for whom it is intended. There are already great needs for American Red Cross assistance in England. These will doubtless increase in the near future. Our campaign for funds must go forward.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SUMMER CARE

This is the time of year when families close up houses in the city and head for summer camps on lakes and rivers all over this continent. Many of these camps are in remote spots and their conveniences are crude or few. So, to these persons who are going camping for the summer or for a month or even a week, I have a warning, particularly if there are children in the family. Choose your camp in accordance with its milk and water supplies and its sanitary conveniences, or take along the means of providing the proper facilities.

I know a family which has a small son in a sanitarium with tuberculosis of the spine and hip. The infection was traced to milk—unpasteurized from tubercular cows. The only time that little fellow drank unpasteurized milk in his life was during the months of July and August that his family spent at an isolated lake not very far from here. All summer long its milk supply came from a neighboring farm.

When you go to the country for the summer, the first thing to do is check on the milk supply. Find out if it is pasteurized. If it isn't, pasteurize it yourself. This isn't difficult for pasteurizing milk is as simple as ABC. Your department of health—city, state, or provincial, will give you complete details. Probably it has a folder on the subject. Here in Ontario, the provincial board of health sends circulars to campers, telling them all about how to care for milk and water supplies.

Here is a simple recipe! Put the day's milk supply in a double boiler bring the temperature up to 143 degrees, keep it at that mark for at least half an hour, and then cool it to fifty degrees as fast as you can in ice water or a refrigerator. Keep it chilled until it is used.

If you have a small child for whom you prepare feedings, then you would be well advised to go to your doctor before you leave the city and get his advice. He will probably put the child on a formula of evaporated milk which can be taken into the camp in cans and kept uniform throughout the summer.

Now about the water supply. Sometimes the wells at summer camps do not contain good water, perhaps because they are not used enough. Send a sample of the water to your department of health before you drink any of it. If it is fit for use as is, they will tell you. If not, they will be glad to give you chloride of lime, or some other purifier to put in it.

Remember these two precautions with water and milk may save a case of typhoid or it may save a child from being crippled by tuberculosis.

The only question now is whether other free people will refuse to believe in bandits until they feel a gun in their ribs.

AROUND CITY HALL

Following a suggestion by City Solicitor Robert M. White, council directed that he or Assistant City Solicitor Frank Moretti, attend the sheriff's sales July 1 and bid in property on which taxes are owed the city. The bid will be as high as the taxes. This will force those who wish to buy the properties to be sold because of foreclosures to pay the taxes.

Upon recommendation of Chief of Police W. G. McMullen, transmitted through Mayor Charles B. Mayne, council named for another 10 days period as police force members, Joe Yakowitz, Albert Russo and Clark Davis.

Council Thursday passed a motion offered by Streets Director W. H. Dunlap asking bids on mixed concrete to be used in the building of sidewalks here.

When council met in city hall Thursday the solons voted payment to McBride & Shannon $701.09, compensation insurance bill, for May. The motion to pay the bill was offered by Finance Director J. L. Fink.

Building permits showing the estimated cost of the proposed construction granted in city hall today were as follows: Minnie Moresky, brick garage, 202 East Leasure avenue, $450, and Karl Landfield, garage, 423 Meyer avenue, $150.

Rejects Bids On Sheriff's Office

Bids, Opened This Morning By County Commissioners, Adjudged Too High

County commissioners found the cost of building operations had apparently risen considerably of late, and after perusing bids for the construction of a one-story brick office building, which was to be erected for the use of the sheriff, rejected all bids this morning.

The structure, which is planned, is a one-story building at the end of the driveway between the sheriff's residence and the court house, one wall of which would have been formed by the north wall of the jail.

The bids were as follows: Matthew Leivo and Sons, $6,190; L. A. Haug, $6,517; J. Clyde Gilfillan Lumber Co., $6,846. In addition to the above, would have been the plumbing, heating and wiring, bids for which had been submitted as follows: Chamberlain and Cline Electric Co., wiring and fixtures, $276.40; Withers Plumbing Co., plumbing, $190.10; Withers Plumbing Co., heating, $160.

This would have made the total cost of the structure, $6,816 at the lowest figure. The building was to be approximately 14 by 31 feet.

HOSTILITIES CEASE IN SYRIA REGION

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

LONDON, June 28.—The British submarine Tetrarch has sunk "a deeply laden German transport of about 8,000 tons" off the coast of Norway, it was officially reported today by the British admiralty.

The Tetrarch, 1,475 tons, is one of Britain's most modern submarines of the "patrol type", and is one of the same class as the ill-fated Thetis which sank with haevy loss of life during her trial runs on June 1, 1939.

British Plane Captured

Rome, June 28.—Capture of a British plane and its uninjured crew was reported today in an official Italian military bulletin which stated:

"Spirited and brilliant aviation actions occurred in north and east Africa.

"The enemy's rear lines and British motorized detachments were efficaciously bombed and damaged on the Cyrenacian frontier.

"In an air fight one British plane was forced to land near Asmara. The crew, unhurt, was taken prisoner.

"One enemy plane was shot down and two others were badly damaged at Assab."

Camp East Brook Chatter

Saturday, rain; Sunday, rain; Monday, rain; Tuesday, rain. Camp East Brook is making the best of the weather. The attitude of the campers is best expressed by one eight-year-old when the rain threatened to destroy their hike Tuesday evening. "O, we don't mind," she told her cabin, "we'll just suit ourselves to the weather."

Lucky for the sports-loving group no swimming had to be postponed. The sun always peeked out for a half hour during each swimming period. At the time of the counsellors' plunge, however, an electric storm swept over the camp and they were the losers.

For the most of the day routine program schedules were begun. Miss Anne took orders for craft work; Miss Cornell discovered that she has much talent along the dancing and acrobatic line to work with for the evening programs; Miss Kay has distributed note books to her nature group. Already they are a fourth filled with jottings concerning birds they have seen; flwoers they cannot recognize, and bugs that almost bit them. Miss Bess has planned many interesting evening get-togethtrs. Immediately after dinner the girls gather in the dining room, by the cliff, at the cottage, or at a camp fire for fun and songs. One evening around a huge hall in the dining hall there were peals of laughter at the parody on "Handsome Harry," then Miss Bess led the groups in some choral readings, "The Briary Bush" and "Hannibal Crossed the Alps."

Miss Stewart follows a very progressive program in camp management and activities that has received the greatest appreciation from the group. Each cabin has a "council member" who reports, along with the other council members, to Miss Stewart each evening. At this meeting the girls' desires, suggestions and help is discussed. In this way the girls do design the outline of their own government in camp. They have suggested forfeits in case they break camp rules—rules which they, too, have made.

On Tuesday evening the girls hiked towards Lakewood. Suddenly a terrific rain storm fell upon them and they ran as fast as they could back to camp. After warm showers they donned pajamas and house coats, trotted to the dining room fireplace, where they sang, ate crackers and milk and generally enjoyed the entire episode.

Wednesday Miss Bess arranged for clever stunts in the evening. "The Owl and the Pussycat," "Betty Boop" and "My Pretty Maid" predominated in favor. Miss Martha, the camp nurse, announced that the Wood Thrush group had won the honor of staying up ten minutes later (last cabin to wash for bed) because they had the neatest cabin.

There's one thing certain about every canddiate. If he can't tell us what to do in this crisis, we'd be saps to trust him with the job.

Teaching of the so-called "dead languages," Latin and Greek, has no practical value to students of today, say some critics. Today's contestants in spelling bees seem to justify instruction in these languages, however, because it is said many contestants have no idea how to spell a word because they are unable to associate it with the Latin or Greek word from which it is derived.

Quinto, capital of Ecuador, is the oldest capital city in the western hemisphere.

Osha is a medical herb which grows in New Mexico. The natives of the state use it as a hot tea for indigestion or make it into a syrup with brown sugar for a cough. It grows in the mountains, where it is gathered by sheep herders and sold to "medicas", or herb women.

Tennis Club Is Formed In Ward

Presbyterian Church Group To Use Maple Street Court During Summer

Organization of a tennis club was completed at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, Thursday evening.

Bob Wilkinson and Kenneth Farver were elected as co-chairmen of the club and Virginia Drumheller was elected to the post of treasurer. Plans were made to use the Maple street court during the summer months.

Members of the club will begin work on the tennis court the first part of next week.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Benches have now been returned to the Liberty street park, after being delayed somewhat while they were being painted and renovated by city workmen.

Many of the outdoor meetings of Mahoningtown organizations have been changed to indoor affairs because of the lingering cold and rainy weather.

Rock garden on the hillside in front of the Crawford-Oakridge N. Y. A. Girls Center, is quite attractive. The flowers are beginning to bloom now and the entire garden is visible from the highway in front.

Band concert that was postponed from last week is scheduled for tonight.

Not many people have gone to their summer camps yet this year because of the inclement weather. Usually by this time several score families from the district are settled in their vacation homes.

Build New Floor For Bandstand

Through the efforts of John B. Brettell, president of the Seventh Ward Civic club, a new floor may be found in the bandstand in the Liberty street park.

A corps of workmen completed the task of constructing a sturdy floor this morning, to replace the old floor that was badly worn by weather.

WILLKIE FIRST CHOICE AT G.O.P. CONVENTION

had little or no opposition, none in 1932, Landon was a first ballot ace in 1936 and the result is there hasn't been many real demonstrations since 1920.

Noisy Demonstration

The Dewey demonstration was noisy, with most of the noise coming from the floor, and practically none from the gallery. The Taft demonstration was noisier and showier than Dewey's, balloons were dropped from traps high in the ceiling and scores of marchers brought signs and pictures onto the floor.

The Willkie demonstration was like neither of these. It started before Congressman Halleck could get under way. Then he broke with political tradition by mentioning his candidate's name before he was far along in his address and more demonstrations broke out.

When he finished the gallery went hog wild and the infection spread to the floor. About 14 or 16 states joined in with banners and several fights broke out over possession of the standards, particularly those of New York and Virginia.

Highlights

New Castle made a much better showing Wednesday night. To the group that has been here since Sunday eight or ten more joined.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Young and Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Brown drove in and got rooms because some lad got beat in a tennis match. There has been a series of matches down here with such fellows as Don Budge putting on exhibitions. One or two of them came into the hotel where the Youngs and Browns are now stopping and the New Castle folks got their rooms.

Register and Recorder Orville Potter, Attorney Frank O. Moretti, Daniel Treloar and William E. Langan got in late Wednesday afternoon and proceeded to do the various candidates' headquarters.

Television is in the same class as the lad who first saw a giraffe, "there ain't no such animal". But there it is. The pictures and sound originate through the huge television truck which is parked in the basement areaway of the convention hall. Three men sit inside the darkened truck constantly watching the picture and sound, and continually turning knobs and dials and gadgets. The picture comes out on an eight-inch square screen, and these screens are to be found in exhibition hall, and in a few spots down town.

Meet Alternate Delegate Samuel McGoun of Michigan. Up to 11 o'clock Thursday morning Mr. McGoun was a shoe merchant of New Castle. Sam came down to the convention and like a quarter million other people had no ticket. That didn't bother him in the least. Looking as important as an alternate delegate should he breezed by the doorkeeper and seated himself in the Michigan alternate section.

After this convention there should be a boom in foot powder, arch supporters and soft shoes. By now the delegates are limping along on one cylinder. Over-stuffed dowagers from the prairies are wondering why the Pennsylvania streets are so hard, so hot and so unyielding.

County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer, Deputy Sheriff George Dean and State Health Officer Al Vogan took in the show in the Benjamin Franklin hotel Thursday morning. There's never a dull moment in the Franklin, James, Taft, Gannett, Bridges and MacNider have their headquarters there. A band concert Thursday morning with two charming misses doing a bit of jitter bugging livened the place.

As this is written Fred L. Rentz has not been seen but somebody in the Ben Franklin wanted to see him. Twice during Thursday he was paged and a number of his friends, including Lieut.-Governor Samuel S. Lewis, U. S. Senator James J. Davis, Nevin Dietrich and a host of others have asked for him.

Who for vice president? Several candidates offered to accept, the appointment, Hanford MacNider, who is well known by American Legionnaires and visited New Castle one time, Senator Styles Bridges, Frank Gannett, Senator Smith of Wyoming and there's an idea around here that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt might be available. Young Teddy is conspicuous around the convention hall and has visited practically every delegation.

Add new simile: "As useless as a seconding speech to a nominating speech." After the furore of the demonstration following the nominating speech, nobody seems to listen to the seconding speech and the clatter is heavy and loud.

When this convention is over Atlantic City is going to get a lot of the western and southern groups. Many of them have never been in the east before and the side trips that are planned are interesting.

Former State Senator George T. Weingartner arrived on the scene late Thursday afternoon and immediately made for the Pennsylvania headquarters in the Franklin hotel.

The Pennsylvanai railroad is getting the plaudits of the newspapermen at the convention. One huge room in the convention hall is taken over as a press lounge room where a television set has been installed plenty of comfortable chairs and light refreshments. All costing nothing.

Babson Says Youth Faces Changed World And Opportunities

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1940—Publishers Financial Bureau

DIXVILLE NOTCH, N. H., June 28.—America's mammoth educational mills have thrown 2,000,000 school and college graduates on the doorsteps of industry. Already plagued by nearly 10,000,000 jobless, this new army of hopefuls adds further testimony to the fact that America must, as a vital part of our defense program, solve the unemployment problem. It is a new world that greets these 2,000,000 fledglings, a vastly different world than the textbooks just tucked away on the shelves told them about. But these newcomers into the battle of life are desperately needed in helping America realistically face her challenge in this world-wide revolution.

BABSON

Profit Trend Down

Bluntly, graduates must recognize there are NOT the same opportunities for them that there were for there fathers and mothers. Jobs cannot pay so much in the future as they have in the past. For the first time in half a century the trend of the profits of American business is headed downward. The increased efficiency of our factories, machines and gadgets cannot offset the huge toll which defense expenditures will take.

For five decades, America's unsurpassed engineers constantly improved the efficiency of our industrial machine. This increased efficiency sopped up sensational advances in government and labor costs. Machines have made it temporarily possible to work less, waste more, and yet enjoy a higher standard of living. Now, with government and labor costs still rising, increased efficiency of American factories and machines cannot hope to overcome the additional burdens of mammoth defense expenses as well.

Effect of a German Victory

With that point firmly fixed in mind, today's graduate should also weigh the effect of a German-controlled Europe on American economy. Bluntly, again, the truth here is that the United States is in the worst competitive position in history. Despite our efficient industrial methods, we are on the defensive in world markets because of our high salaries, high wages, high taxes and terrible waste. Moreover, political influence always follows economic influence. Germany, Japan and Italy will exploit this to the fullest extent, particularly in South America.

Individually-controlled democratic American businesses will find themselves at the mercy of state-controlled Fascist cartels. Confident of victory, Germany has just offered steel, for instance, to South America for October delivery at a substantial reduction from our prices. She can dictate selling prices because she can dictate what she pays for wages and raw materials. This Nazi announcement sounds an ominous note not only for our economy, but for our security. Naturally, our export firms are frightened. Hence, the 1940 job-seeker should not count on foreign trade opportunities.

Opportunities Selective

So far this is a pretty dismal outlook, but balanced against the uncertain picture of America's economy as a whole are definite opportunities in selected industries. Here are a few:

1. Chemicals: Most chemical companies are prosperous and have a tremendous future. Great developments are taking place in the plastic industry particularly. The future offers unlimited opportunities—war or peace, Fascism or Democracy, New Deal or Old Deal.

2. Aviation: The industry is America's youngest, America's most hopeful. The day is not too distant when it will be as cheap to ride the airways as the railways and the highways. Those interested in commercial piloting should enter thru the air corps. But the industry needs more than pilots—it needs young men to grow up with it in its vital administrative work.

3. Building: One of the greatest contributions of the New Deal to the American scene is its attempts to put homes in the reach of small income brackets. It has solved the problem of financing and it is now attempting to solve the problem of high costs. Despite the uncertainties that war always brings to home building, I believe that building, its proudcts and trades offer real opportunities.

4. Merchandising: America still needs better salesmen. This includes stores, mail order, advertising and personal selling Whatever goods are made, or whoever makes them, they must be sold, irrespective of the value of the dollar or the character of the government.

5. Defense: The army, navy, air force, coast defense need able young men to make defense their career. The past 25 years clearly show that disarmament is a snare and a delusion—that this country must not be caught unawares as were France and Great Britain in 1938.

Must Make Opportunities

I am attending a convention of fire chiefs—men who never consider themselves and have no fear of danger. I cannot help thinking but that they have the key to real success. It is true that today there are new conditions to combat, that competition is very severe, and that 1940 graduates cannot depend on government aid, relief, or artificial crutches of any kind. Those, however, who make up their minds to work harder and longer hours, to follow the New Testament's command:—"to give full measure, pressed down and running over"—those graduates will make opportunities for themselves which may lead to more in the end than they ever hoped.

In short, the future of the 1920 graduate depended upon what was about him; but the future of the 1940 graduate depends upon what is in him. Opportunities?—Yes!—But the opportunities of today are in the development—not of the character of the land but of the character of the man!

Ponoma Chorus Picnic Monday

Lawrence County Ponoma Chorus members will gather Monday evening, July 1, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wylie Brewster, of Mt. Jackson, for their annual picnic supper party.

There will be a regular practice of musical selections following the serving.

Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Brewster and Mrs. Clarence Shumaker.

Come to think of it, we have proof that man is uniformly lazy. Literature is full of prose poems praising sunsets, but you never see praise of a sunrise.

SELECT WILLKIE ON SIXTH BALLOT AT CONVENTION

and final success. He actually won because he broke down the Dewey strength in New York state.

The story of his nomination lies in Willkie's gains from New York. His votes from the Empire State on successive ballots were: 1st, 8, 2nd, 13; 3rd, 27 (which he got by demanding a roll-call after 17 were reported for him); 4th, 35; 5th, 75 (which made Dewey quit) and 6th, 78 (before it was made unanimous).

The first ballot found Willkie running third behind a leading Dewey and a second-place Taft. He kept gaining, along with Taft, at Dewey's expense until he went into first place on the fourth ballot, with Taft second and Dewey third. On the fifth ballot, with favorite sons dropping out all over the hall, he crossed the 400 mark and he won on the sixth.

Six Ballots

The returns on the six ballots were:

Willkie, 105—171—259—306—429—633x.

Taft, 189—203—212—254—377—315x.

Dewey, 360—338—315—250—57—unreported.

(X—Before vote changes.)

The convention reeked with drama as the nominating session started. Chairman Martin emphasized it when he told intimates he intended to hold the convention in session until it reached a decision, and then admonished the auditorium crowd:

"Be quiet, because we have a long night ahead of us."

There were thousands of Willkie followers in the hall. They made their presence known, constantly chanting like a college cheering squad:

"We want Willkie!"

They cheered every gain. They booed all opposition. Martin appealed to them time and again to behave—but they wanted Willkie.

At one stage, a rivai shouted back: "We want a Republican!" He got a big cheer from the rest of the crowd and a rare moment of silence from the Willkie admirers.

The first ballot of the night was the third of the convention. Two had been taken in the afternoon. Dewey led on both, with Taft second and Willkie third.

Dents Opposition

Willkie first dented his opposition when he gained six votes from Arizona. Previously, the Sunset State had been voting for Publisher Frank E. Gannett of Rochester. Willkie then picked up a few here and there including four in Kansas and six in Maryland. Next he busted right into the Dewey stronghold of New York when Chairman William F. Bleakley announced the state's vote as including 57 for Dewey and 17 for Willkie. It was challenged immediately by Willkie's organization. On the demanded roll-call, Willkie increased his score to 27 votes while reducing Dewey to 54. Right there, Willkie beat Dewey out of the nomination, though he had yet to win it for himself.

This gave Kenneth F. Simpson newly ousted as New York national committeeman by Dewey, his chance. He voted for Willkie, while the galleries cheered. The ballot ended with Willkie taking second place from Taft right on Dewey's heels.

While the fourth ballot was being taken, rumors spread through the hall that there was to be a fast big switch to Taft. The Dewey organization was in a panic.

Landon Is Factor

Meanwhile Willkie's manager crossed the hall and publicly sat down beside Alf Landon in the Kansas delegation to discuss the next move. Photographers made a holiday of their conference—an amazing departure from decisions arrived at "in smoke-filled rooms."

And it was a momentous decision. Landon agreed to switch the 18 Kansas votes from Senator Arthur Capper to Willkie. The fourth ballot ended with Willkie crossing the 300 mark, leading the whole procession and driving Dewey into third place.

On the fifth, the Willkie crew whipped up their bandwagon. Landon tossed his 18 Kansans behind the Willkie standard. Taft's managers made a valiant effort to halt the runaway. They picked up 22 votes in Kentucky but the galleries screamed "we want Willkie."

And then Willkie finally smashed Dewey. He took 75 votes out of the New York delegation in a madfest demonstration and Dewey faded right out of the picture. By the end of the roll-call, Dewey had released his delegates.

Final Roll-Call

The final roll-call started shortly after midnight. Taft put up a gallant fight but Willkie kept gaining, state by state he was certain of nomination when Missouri gave him 26 votes, because he had a total of 503 then on the basis of his fifth ballot votes from remaining states. He actually reached 499 on 16 votes from Virginia, which lost the honor of causing his nomination by giving two to Taft. Then Pennsylvania, which had passed, came in, voted him 72 unanimously and Wendell L. Willkie was the G.O.P. nominee.

After that, everybody got on the bandwagon. Votes were switched at a breathless pace and the official count gave Willkie 998, the others none.

Rivals Pledge Support

All his rivals promptly pledged their support. Governor Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania, did it in person, Dewey personally by telephone and the others through their campaign managers.

Former President Herbert Hoover also joined the parade, telegraphing:

"A free convention nominated you and a free people will carry you to victory in November."

Then Chairman Martin read a response from Willkie, in which the nominee thanked everybody for their "loyalty and generosity" and asked the support of "every American who believes in American principles."

Many post-mortems are being held. Dewey managers blame deserting delegates. Taft managers have no alibis. But there are many delegates who believe two women both versatile in politics, nominated Willkie by blocking a Taft-Dewey alliance that could have shared the ticket. The women are Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of the senator, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Sims, co-manager of Dewey.

They were reported to have blocked the merger, because Mrs. Taft would not let her husband take second place and Mrs. Sims would not let her candidate take it either—so Willkie licked each one in turn and took the nomination from both.

Grove City Guard At Full Strength

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, June 28.—Eight recruits needed to bring Regimental Headquarters Co., 112th Infantry, to full peacetime strength have been secured, according to Captain Frank Poehlman. The men were needed to replace guardsmen who have found it impossible to attend the huge field maneuvers that will be held in upper New York state in August, as the annual summer encampment. The company now includes 88 men and two officers.

Details of the army maneuvers will be obtained by three local officers, Captain E. M. Young and Lieuts. James Griffith and Paul McNeish, who will attend a meeting of the 112th Infantry officers at Kane, Sunday.

KROGER

KROGER Self-Serve Markets Are Different!

★ EVERY ITEM PRICED ON PACKAGE AND SHELF
You are not left to the "mercy" of the cashier. You'll find the price of every item clearly marked on the shelf and the same price also stamped right on the can or package itself.

★ CASH REGISTER RECEIPT ALWAYS PLACED IN YOUR BUNDLE
This enables you to "double-check" your purchases in case there is any doubt in your mind. Kroger's courteous clerks always place this receipt in your bundle. (IF THEY FAIL TO DO SO, ASK FOR IT.)

★ KROGER ½c CASH REGISTER KEYS SAVE MONEY
On an ordinary cash register you are charged 8c for a 2 for 15c item. On Kroger's fine new cash registers you are charged only 7½c. This saving mounts when you purchase an order of any size.

★ NO OVERCHARGING IN A KROGER SELF-SERVE STORE
Here's one point you can depend upon. Kroger does not tolerate deliberate overcharging of customers. That's why we insist that you receive your cash register receipt without fail.

★ DEPARTMENTAL MARKERS MAKE SHOPPING EASIER
You don't have to play "hide and seek" at Kroger. Every department is complete and each one is clearly marked as to its general contents. You really save time at a Kroger Self-Serve Market.

Open Knitting Headquarters For Red Cross Here

Increased Demand For Knitted Garments And Sick Room Articles Reported

With the increased demand for knitted garments and articles for the sick room coming in dafly to the Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross office, Mrs. Robert Garland, chairman of knitting of the local chapter, is opening a downtown headquarters at the J. R. Frew company store for the purpose of having a centrally located place for all women to drop in for instruction and extra yarn.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, this headquarters will be supervised by one of Mrs. Garland's instructors and it is urged upon the women of Lawrence county to use this headquarters for the purpose of completing the knitted garments so much needed.

Mrs. James Rhodes, chairman of production, is now making arrangements for a sewing headquarters at the New Castle Dry Goods store and as soon as plans have been fully completed a further announcement will be made but in the meantime Mrs. Rhodes calls to the attention of all women of the chapter jurisdiction who can sew, to drop in to the chapter house and get a cut garment to take home and complete.

Mrs. Percy Walls, assistant chairman of production, is carrying on an auxiliary in the First Christian church, and Mrs. Blanche Bright is supervising a similar group in the Central Presbyterian church. Mrs. John Wajert, assistant chairman of production, has an auxiliary cutting the materials in the Oakland hall and the Polish Falcon hall. At the present time the chapter is making operating robes, bed shirts and convalescent robes besides dresses and shirts for the refugees.

There is a great need for buttons and if every housewife would again be willing to search her button bag and give to the chapter all dark buttons which are not being used, this would greatly help in the finishing of a great many of the garments now waiting buttons. If anyone has a supply of buttons and cannot bring them to the chapter house, if they will but call the chapter office, the motor corps will pick them up and deliver them to the chairman of production.

Hobby Unit At Scout Camp To Be Organized

Tented Unit At Camp Kiondashawa To Have Varied Activity Program

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lillian Ward, a Hobby Unit will be organized at Girl Scout Camp Kiondashawa, located near Transfer, Pa., this season. The Hobby Unit will be a tented group, with a varied program including swimming, boating, photography, archery, crafts, outdoor cooking and hiking.

Mrs. Ward has numerous new craft ideas for the unit. An opportunity for older girls to pass boating tests will be afforded and Mrs. Rebecca Johnston will be in charge of boating. This year there will be nine boats and two canoes available at the camp.

At the present time there is a group of 4-H Girls using the camp and everything will be in first class shape when the New Castle girls take over on August 4.

In addition to Mrs. Ward, the Hobby Unit staff is composed of Ruth Conner of New Castle, Janet Rose, Bellevue, and Margaret Beck of the Union high faculty.

At the present there is a detour on the regular route to camp, and the scouts will go via Mercer on Route 58, a road which is six miles shorter. Printed instructions will be given each girl who enrolls for camp.

Blue Triangle Club Plans War Benefit

$100,000 Required For Y. W. C. A. Emergency Service In War-Torn Europe

For the benefit of the Europe Y. W. C. A. Emergency, the Blue Triangle club of the Y. W. C. A. business girls, is planning a Sunday morning breakfast on July 14, at Cascade Park.

The Y. W. C. A. is carrying on war emergency work to provide centers of refuge, counsel and friendly service for women and girls uprooted and stranded in Europe. Trained staff and experienced volunteer personnel are already on the spot. Many of the European Y W. C. A. leaders are themselves refugees and ready to aid in reuniting families, relieving distress, and fighting moral decay on behalf of French, Belgian, Dutch, Polish and other women and children and the evacuated civilians in France and elsewhere. The greatest need is for emergency funds which are beyond the capacity and responsibility of the Y. W. C. A. constituency alone to provide.

To maintain these emergency services for women and girls $100,000 is required.

People are to be reassured about the safety of the funds contributed. They are held in a dollar account by the National Board in New York and are transmitted in limited amounts as directed by cable from the World's Y. W. C. A and for specific daily needs. They are thus safeguarded for administration through Y. W. C. A.'s own trusted personnel in Europe.

Friends who would like to help, may call the Blue Triangle Club finance committee: Jane Cochran, chairman, Erma Eckert, Erla McCummins, Mary Tewell and Lenora Walters, or the club president Lilliam Ekblom.

BOYCOTTING

Boycotting, a conspiracy to punish or coerce anyone by inducing others to refrain from business or social relations with him, was first formulated by Parnell, the great Irish leader, in 1880, and derived its name from the victim, Capt. Charles Kaheer, of Neshannock township, who was recently appointed deputy constable on petition of Constable Theodore R. Altman, for the duration of the latter's term, which ends on the first Monday of January, 1944, has been sworn in, his bond approved, and is now a duly accredited officer.

Thursday afternoon was a rather quiet one around the court house, what with most of the lawyers in Butler playing golf against the Butler County barristers, and a number of the county officials at the Republican national convention in Philadelphia.

For some peculiar reason, the plastic tile which was applied to the floor in the Prothonotary's office refuses to stick, moisture apparently gathering beneath the squares. All efforts to make them stay put have failed so far. The spot where the offense occurs is just beneath the archway from the old section to the new room in the addition which was recently opened. The wall tile in the toilet room immediately adjoining this room is also giving trouble, refusing to stick in place.

Tamulis Hurls Well In Relief

Goes To Rescue Of Tex Carleton In Eighth Inning To Give Dodgers 5 To 4 Win

ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 28.—One qualification needed for a team to win the pennant, according to baseball legend, is a good relief pitcher. And although the Brooklyn Dodgers have been failing miserably in most other departments during the past two weeks, the relief hurling of Vito Tamulis today stands as a possible good omen.

On numerous occasions this year, Tamulis has rushed to the rescue in the late innings to salvage many a game for the Dodgers. Yesterday when Pitcher Tex Carleton faltered in the eighth, it was this little left hander who stepped into the breach and held the Chicago Cubs in check, enabling the desperate Dodgers to gain a 5 to 4 victory. The win snapped a three-game Dodgers losing spell.

Giants Top Phils

In the only other scheduled National League game, the New York Giants cast a solid vote, 7 to 0, against the Phillies in a night encounter. The Giants thus reduced Cincinnati's league lead to two games and held their grip on the Dodgers' coat tails by a half-game.

In the only American League game scheduled, the Detroit Tigers were held to three hits but two of them were homers by Charley Gehringer and Hank Greenberg, giving the Bengals a 2 to 1 night victory over the Browns.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT

The Fannins will play the Sonnies tonight in a Class B exhibition game at Rose Avenue field. The game will start at 6 o'clock. Dinks Lane and Alexander will be the opposing heavers. Monday the Fans play the Highland A. C. at Rose avenue and Tuesday meet the Fleetwings at Gaston Park in a league game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz, former middleweight champion of the world, easily won on points from Bud Mignault of Brockton, Mass., last night in a 10-round bout at East Liverpool. Yarosz weighed 174 and Mignault 169. At Baltimore, George Pace, Cleveland negro, holder of the bantamweight championship, scored a technical knockout over Lawrence Gunn of Baltimore after one round of vicious fighting in a no-decision fight.

Two Ton Tony Galento will add color to his fight with Max Baer, Tuesday, in Jersey City, if he names Jack Kearns as his chief adviser. Jack seconded Jack Dempsey in practically every fight he had. Kearns has a gymnastic brain and being so equipped can help Galento. While the Galento-Baer fight is called a Battle of Clowns, those who like to see round-house swings and longshoreman punching will probably be satisfied.

Alice Marble, U. S. tennis queen, and Mary Arnold teamed to capture the national clay courts women's doubles championship, 6-3, 6-4, from Helen Barnard of New York and Gracyn Wheeler of Los Angeles, are scheduled to play today at Cincinnati. Earlier, Miss Marble had defeated her doubles partner and fellow townswoman 6-2, 6-1 in quarter-final singles of the tri-state tourney.

Eddie Meister of Cleveland and Yale was beaten in the third round of the national collegiate golf championship at Manchester, Vt., yesterday by Stewart Alexander of Duke, 8 and 4. Big Ten Champion Billy Gilbert of Ohio State lost to W. A. Cordingly of Harvard 5 and 4. The other survivors for the quarter finals are: Billy Clark, Dartmouth; Eddie Foy, Holy Cross; Harry Haverstick, Swarthmore; Cary Middlecoff, Mississippi; Dixon Brooks, Virginia, and Bill Hall, Iowa State.

Bobby Servis, Dayton, defending champion and odds-on-favorite, won from Mel Sulzer of Columbus, 8 and 7, in his first match in the Ohio amateur golf championship play at Cleveland's Shaker Heights Country club Thursday.

WEST PITTSBURG DEFEATS ELDERS

The West Pittsburg "Gas House" team declared itself very much in the running for the first half championship in the city baseball league by handing the second-place Elders at 6 to 1 defeat last night at West Pittsburg. Braky did the "Gas House" pitching and gave but five hits.

The West Pittsburgers had seven hits off of Dolly Hartman and Gunnett. Albert Marky had the only extra-base hit in the game, a triple. Ralph "Blackie" Fundoots caught a fine game and had a hit and run to aid in the victory. John Marky had three of the West Pittsburg hits.

The victory along with the defeat of the Indies makes a real exciting race for the first half flag. Tonight the West Pittsburg team plays the Moose at Lehigh field in a postponed game.

Dempsey Barred In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, today was forbidden by the State Athletic commission to engage in boxing exhibitions with wrestlers within Pennsylvania.

Dempsey, now 45, begins a ring comeback by boxing Cowboy Luttrell, a wrestler, at Atlanta on July 1. When a Philadelphia promoter sounded out the athletic commission on possible bouts for the Manassa Mauler in Philadelphia, Chairman Leon L. Rains issued the edict: "We deny permission. Any such match would tend to lower the high standard which Dempsey always has maintained."

LIBERTY STAR GIRLS WIN

The Liberty Star girls won a girls softball league game last night from the Junedale girls team 25 to 7. Irene Domenick did the Liberty hurling and did a swell job of it. Homers were hit by Mary Pia and Caffio. Florence Izzo had a triple.

Sports World Ramblings

Touring the Sports Circuits—Mrs T. E. Nolan, whose achievements on the golf links are known from coast to coast, has grabbed herself another title. The localite's latest bauble came at the expense of feminine niblick swingers from New Castle, Greenville, Grove City, Sharon and Meadville. The tourney setting was the Sharon Country club.

With little or no publicity whatsoever, Sammy Angott, the Washington, Pa., windmill, and Baby Arizmendi of Los Angeles squared off in a non-title lightweight match out in the coast a few nights back. After 10 thrilling chukkers, the fight was declared a draw. When the verdict was announced, part of the 8,000 bugs started to square off. Coast vets believed Arizmendi copped the duke.

Note to Diamond Scouts: There's a kid out in Houston who must have something. Fresh out of high school, Lefty Howard Pollet, 18, has won 12 straights in the Texas League, busting a 45-year record . . . Latest figures show that Hugh Mulcahy of the lowly Phils, is one-two for the N. L. low run average.

They say Frank Crosetti is showing more life at shortstop for the Yanks. They also say the reason is that the shadow of Phil Rizzuto of K. C. is hovering over him . . . A lot of morning glories bloomed in the National this spring. When various clubs shaved their rosters to 25 players, 55 of the 200 left were yearlings.

Vince DiMaggio's spurt at the plate is attributed to Paul Waner's interest in Di. The likeable Paul, who has few peers as a stickman in the majors, has reportedly shown Di his shortcomings. Vince displayed his appreciation by whacking out six homers in a little over a week.

..Recent "beanings" in the big show have caused moguls to start scratching their heads again. The old cry, "let the batters wear helmets", has arisen again. Someone even suggested awarding a felled batter a homer when clipped. The suggestion, however, doesn't have a chance to enter the diamond rule books.

Newsom Trims Brownies, 2-1

"Buck" Newson, powerful Detroit Tiger hurler, checked the St. Louis Browns, 2-1, last night in St. Louis.

In halting the hard hitting Browns, Newsom got revenge for his only loss of the season.

Charley Gehringer belted his sixth homer while "Hank" Greenberg uncorked his 13th circuit wallop as Newsom added his 10th triumph.

SLOVAKS-MOOSE PLAY TIE GAME

The Slovaks and Moose played a tie game 6-6 last night at the Clifton Flats field, with the game called at the end of the seventh by darkness. Chet Otlawski on the hill for the Slovaks, pitched a nice game, but five errors hurt his chances to win.

Tommy Strausbaugh did the Moose hurling and pitched a steady game. Otlawski besides pitching a good game, had three hits, a homer and two singles, while Cash Koszela had three Slovak hits also, all of them being doubles. Other extra base hits were made by Budai, Muse and Majeski.

CHURCH LEAGUE HAS PARTY

The New Castle church golf league ended the first-half of the season last night at Castle Hills golf course with the First Methodist team winning the championship, of the first-half. The Methodists finished with 34 points. At the end of the matches last night the league members enjoyed a fine picnic party in the clubhouse.

Medalist last night was Izzy Solomon with a very fine 38 card. Other low scores were turned in by Everett Granger, 39, Chink Dutkin 39, Stan Kibish 40, George Sargent 40. The Perelman Golf Ball was won by two players with low nets of 36—Jay Rudolph and George Sargent. Other prizes were awarded to the following at the party—T. N. Hockman, W. I. Clark, Bob Brinton, Vince Travers, Judd Hodge, S. W. Garren, Earl Jarrett, Dick Hitchcock, T. H. Hitchock, R. L. Davidson, Milt Pattison, J. W. Cartwright, C. V. Mack and Cliff Young.

Prizes were donated to the league by—T. H. Hitchcock, John Offutt and Walter Eckenrode. The picnic lunch consisted of sandwiches of all kinds, baked beans, radishes, pickles, strawberry shortcake and coffee. The menu was prepared by the committee headed by Mont Magill. President of the league, Thos. H. "Tommy" Hitchcock made a few brief but to the point remarks, as did Russ Magill, who explained the flight playoff that begins with the second half.

The contests last night were under the supervision of Fred Scheppele and his committee. Stan Kibish won a slab of bacon for the lowest number of putt 12 on the nine holes played.

Following is the standing of the league at the end of the first-half: First Methodist 34½, First Presbyterian 33, Trinity 33, First U. P. 32, First Christians 30½; St. Marys 29½; Mahoning 28; Highland 24; Temple Israel 19½.

LOS ANGELES — Babe Herman, former National League star, is being used exclusively as a pinch-hitter by the Hollywood club of the Coast League.

For 16 innings, Iowa State Teachers couldn't get a hit or run off the pitchers of Western Michigan State Teachers. Stub Overmire pitched a perfect game in the first nine innings. In the second game, which went only seven, George Bailey walked two.

Jim Bloodworth, Washington infielder, was born at—of all places—Appalachicola, Fla.

On the first of June, 1939, the New York Yankees led the American League pennant race by six and one-half games. On the first of June, 1940, the Yankees were six and one-half games out of first place—a difference of 13 games.

Spanish Stars To Be With Cole Bros. Circus

Chattita Escalante is a member of one of the world's greatest circus families. Twice daily for nine months of each year and for the past eleven years, since she was 9 years old, the little Mexican firefly has flown through the air at dizzy heights in a circus tent.

Miss Escalante says simply "Exercise for women seems to have been lost sight of to a great extent. Every woman cannot be a great athlete but many an ordinary pain or ache could be avoided if a certain amount of consistent exercising was indulged in. I was not in any remarkable condition when I started out on my life's work. It was not strong physically and I started on very simple exercises. My father was my first teacher, during recesses in school days, I gradually became hardy and as I progressed my lessons became more strenuous. Now it's easy for me to fly and do seemingly hard stunts. My advice to girls who complain of poor health is to exercise consistently, gradually building up to the more exacting stunts and they will find that they feel better both in mind and body."

Miss Escalante will be in New Castle on Tuesday, July 9, at the Cedar street circus grounds with the Cole Bros. Circus for two performances. Ken Maynard's Wild West is also featured this season and hundreds of men, women and animals comprise a gorgeous pageant entitled "La Habana" which serves as a prelude to the circus performance.

MINNER UPSETS LAWRENCE INDIES

Paul "Lefty" Minner mastered the league leading Lawrence Indies last night at Washington High field as his mates, the Red Sox, blasted Majocha and Frigione for eight hits to win 5 to 1. Minner gave but two hits until the first of the seventh. He fanned 11 batters.

M. Baker at one point in the game tripled and was left stranded at third. Heavy hitting by Flinner, Updegraff and Coulter featured for the Red Sox, with Baker and Mosley the best for the Indies. The defeat makes a real race out of the city league as West Pittsburg topped the Elders.

No Objection To Water Merger

Water Company Here To Absorb Other Companies; To Seek Approval

City council on Thursday informed Solicitor Robert White to relay to Cobau and Berry, counsel for the New Castle Water company, that the city has no objection to the company taking over various suburban water companies in this vicinity. The Public Service Commission will be asked to approve a franchise, it was stated. Decision today by the council to not oppose the move, eliminates red tape, it was explained.

The companies to be merged into the New Castle Water company are located in Taylor township, Hickory township, Union township, Neshannock township, Shenango township and South New Castle borough.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEKALL

The city has something hot to offer the citizens of New Castle . . . and if you are one of those citizens who likes to pick up good bargains, then here's your chance. You can have that sidewalk fixed up with new concrete for only 14c per square foot . . . that is the cash price and anyone who needs this sort of a job done, will be very foolish to pass up this opportunity . . . so get busy, call city hall and make arrangements. City fathers we thank you for giving the citizens of New Castle this wonderful bargain.

The Republicans throughout the United States are rather jubilant today . . . they have succeeded in agreeing upon one man to represent them in the fall election. Wendell Willkie is the chap's name . . . and what a man. In one short month he has come up in favor . . . from now on the talk will be heard . . . this fall election is a serious event . . . we should all . . . every citizen within these United States . . . think clearly.

* * *

The idea that was passed along concerning the street signs . . . we hope it is obtaining a little thought. We do need street signs and need them badly. The way we figure . . . the idea of painting the name of the street down the cement poles that are already standing would be the cheapest way out . . . and also give the citizens a good sign. What say you powers that be.

* * *

We are glad to see that the civic organizations and others, especially the Elks, are taking an interest in the playground situation. The five hundred dollars that the Elks gave we hope will start some of the other clubs to thinking. We do need equipment for our playgrounds . . . and since our city budget is limited it's up to the good people to help . . . the Children of today are the leaders of tomorrow . . . and the leaders of today must show them the proper way to become good American citizens.

Stock Market Higher Today

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 28.—Choice of Wendell L. Willkie as the Republican presidential nominee proved a pronounced stimulus to the stock market today.

There was a boom tone at the opening, with leaders rising 1 to more than 4 points in big dealings. The feature was huge transactions in utilities, led by an opening block of 75,000 shares of Commonwealth & Southern Corp., of which Mr. Willkie is president.

Trading quieted down thereafter and part of the gains was lost but the list maintained a strong undertone.

First hour volume was 660,000 shares.

C. Of C. Directors Meet Thursday

Seek Airport For City—Other Projects Are Given Consideration At Session

ELLWOOD CITY, June 28—The Board of Directors of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce met last night in the Chamber rooms. J. A. Evans, Chamber president presided. The chamber went on record to petition the city to consider an airport for this community so as the Air Mail Pick-Up planes will be able to land and also pick up passengers.

The Board also pointed out that an airport must be in the picture of this city if we intend to make strong bids for aeronautical industries which the government will encourage to bring into this territory from the Atlantic coast. All-American Aviation, Incorporated are expected to make their airport survey here very shortly.

The Board also unanimously agreed to start the plans for the formation of a Community Chest for this city with the annual drive to be in May, 1941. A special committee from the Chamber Board will be appointed by President J. A. Evans to meet with heads of all civic and patriotic organizations for a Chest organization.

The Chamber will send a letter to the borough council requesting action at the local Post Office for a storm sewer to carry away the heavy surplus of water that has been making the Post Office impassible during rainy seasons and a mass of ice during the winter weather.

Included in this letter will be a request for the street to be widened at this point so as angle parking would allow more automobiles to park there.

State officials of the Department of Forests and Waters will be requested to come to Ellwood City to consider the possibilities of turning the VanGorders Mill, McConnell's Mills and Breakneck bridge territory into a State Park. Chamber officials feel that this is the most beautiful scenic spot for a State Park in Western Pennsylvania and will do everything possible to obtain it for this section.
